

To Whom It May Concern,

Ravali Mamidi completed a 3 month long internship as a Software Engineer at Zebo Technologies Inc in the Fall of 2017. Ravali worked on our Artificial Intelligence chatbot platform using Python 3.0 and various frontend languages. Some specific tasks she completed were integrating Google Analytics into the platform, developing a subscription module and CSV parsing for ecommerce CMS platforms. Ravali is a skilled and meticulous programmer who quickly familiarized herself with our technology stack and picked up on new technologies even faster. She worked dedicatedly with little supervision, took feedback well and acted on it immediately. I highly recommend her and feel she will be an asset to any organization she joins.

If you have any additional questions about her work or time at Zebo please feel free to contact me on the email below.
